

FUZZYKIT

Generating your results...

Report generated on February 11, 2023 20:43:30

Perrault & Brother's Grimm Reading Reflection
Jerry Hu, 8.2, November 26, 2021

Charles Perrault's 'Cinderella'

Author's Purpose

I think that Perrault is trying to entertain the readers, because the morals are not strong enough for the reader to perceive the lesson Perrault's trying to teach. Perrault wants the readers to know that having graciousness is more important than having beauty.

Asking questions

There can be many people in a country that happens to have the same shoe size. Having someone trying to find a girl by matching the shoe size is unreal.

I think that the most important part of the story would be the sisters finding out that Cinderella were the beautiful and most-attracted girl in the ball.

Brother's Grimm's 'Cinderella'

Monitoring yourself

I looked it up on dictionary once I got home

No, the paragraphs weren't too hard

Summary & main idea

The protagonist Cinderella is a beautiful young lady, whose father happens to meet a step mom with two daughters rich on the outside but dark on the inside. And so, with the former rising up from a cinderwench to the princess and the latter depending on their parent's wealth, the two sisters not only cannot see and recognize Cinderella in the ball, but they cannot perceive, that their selfishness to Cinderella only makes them weaker and farther from being the princess.

The climax of the story is that cinderella's foot fits perfectly in the shoes, while the two sisters are trying ridiculously hard to fit theirs in (cutting their toe, heel off).

> Your document is likely to be written by a human.

Average generated probability: 0

Completely generated probability: 6.038008516497037e-16

Overall burstiness: 662.991943359375

> Here is the document:

Perrault & Brother's Grimm Reading Reflection
Jerry Hu, 8.2, November 26, 2021

Charles Perrault's 'Cinderella'

Author's Purpose

I think that Perrault is trying to entertain the readers, because the morals are not strong enough for the reader to perceive the lesson Perrault's trying to teach. Perrault wants the readers to know that having graciousness is more important than having beauty.

Asking questions

There can be many people in a country that happens to have the same shoe size. Having someone trying to find a girl by matching the shoe size is unreal.

I think that the most important part of the story would be the sisters finding out that Cinderella were the beautiful and most-attracted girl in the ball.

Brother's Grimm's 'Cinderella'

Monitoring yourself

I looked it up on dictionary once I got home

No, the paragraphs weren't too hard

Summary & main idea

The protagonist Cinderella is a beautiful young lady, whose father happens to meet a step mom with two daughters rich on the outside but dark on the inside. And so, with the former rising up from a cinderwench to the princess and the latter depending on their parent's wealth, the two sisters not only cannot see and recognize Cinderella in the ball, but they cannot perceive, that their selfishness to Cinderella only makes them weaker and farther from being the princess.

The climax of the story is that cinderella's foot fits perfectly in the shoes, while the two sisters are trying ridiculously hard to fit theirs in (cutting their toe, heel off).

Perrault & Brother's Grimm Reading Reflection
Jerry Hu, 8.2, November 26, 2021

Charles Perrault's ?Cinderella?

Author's Purpose

I think that Perrault is trying to entertain the readers, because the morals are not strong enough for the reader to perceive the lesson Perrault's trying to teach. Perrault wants the readers to know that having graciousness is more important than having beauty.

Asking questions

There can be many people in a country that happens to have the same shoe size. Having someone trying to find a girl by matching the shoe size is unreal.

I think that the most important part of the story would be the sisters finding out that Cinderella were the beautiful and most-attracted girl in the ball.

Brother's Grimm's ?Cinderella?

Monitoring yourself

I looked it up on dictionary once I got home

No, the paragraphs weren't too hard

Summary & main idea

The protagonist Cinderella is a beautiful young lady, whose father happens to meet a step mom with two daughters rich on the outside but dark on the inside. And so, with the former rising up from a cinderwench to the princess and the latter depending on their parent's wealth, the two sisters not only cannot see and recognize Cinderella in the ball, but they cannot perceive, that their selfishness to Cinderella only makes them weaker and farther from being the princess.

The climax of the story is that cinderella's foot fits perfectly in the shoes, while the two sisters are trying ridiculously hard to fit theirs in (cutting their toe, heel off).

> These are perplexity values ranging from all sentences:

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 1612

Sentence: Perrault & Brother's Grimm Reading Reflection

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 238

Sentence: Jerry Hu, 8.2, November 26, 2021

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 195

Sentence: Charles Perrault's ?Cinderella?

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 1265

Sentence: Author's Purpose

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 38

Sentence: I think that Perrault is trying to entertain the readers, because the morals are not strong enough for the reader to perceive the lesson Perrault's trying to teach.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 60

Sentence: Perrault wants the readers to know that having graciousness is more important than having beauty.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 767

Sentence: Asking questions

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 27

Sentence: There can be many people in a country that happens to have the same shoe size.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 108

Sentence: Having someone trying to find a girl by matching the shoe size is unreal.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 55

Sentence: I think that the most important part of the story would be the sisters finding out that Cinderella were the beautiful and most-attracted girl in the ball.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 577

Sentence: Brother's Grimm's ?Cinderella?

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 2004

Sentence: Monitoring yourself

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 97

Sentence: I looked it up on dictionary once I got home

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 127

Sentence: No, the paragraphs weren't too hard

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 1654

Sentence: Summary & main idea

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 75

Sentence: The protagonist Cinderella is a beautiful young lady, whose father happens to meet a step mom with two daughters rich on the outside but dark on the inside.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 76

Sentence: And so, with the former rising up from a cinderwench to the princess and the latter depending on their parent's wealth, the two sisters not only cannot see and recognize Cinderella in the ball, but they cannot perceive, that their selfishness to Cinderella only makes them weaker and farther from being the princess.

Probability of generated: 0

Perplexity: 83

Sentence: The climax of the story is that cinderella's foot fits perfectly in the shoes, while the two sisters are trying ridiculously hard to fit theirs in (cutting their toe, heel off).